Feedback on Management & Oversight

- Overall participants thought the goal should be a new state agency
- New agency would elevate the field and allow us to imagine a new way to support children and families
- Felt IDHS would be better than ISBE if consolidation occurred
 - Felt IDHS had a better understanding of community-based programs, wrap around services, whole child programs/issues
- Need additional clarity on regional and local governance and implementation
- New agency should support small providers
- New agency must have capacity for technical assistance during transition

Open Questions on Management & Oversight

What are the goals around equity and quality?

What are the metrics of success for a new agency; in initial and subsequent years? Is the priority improved access or quality?

How will the state ensure we hear the voice of small providers is included?

What are lessons learned from Chicago's structure?

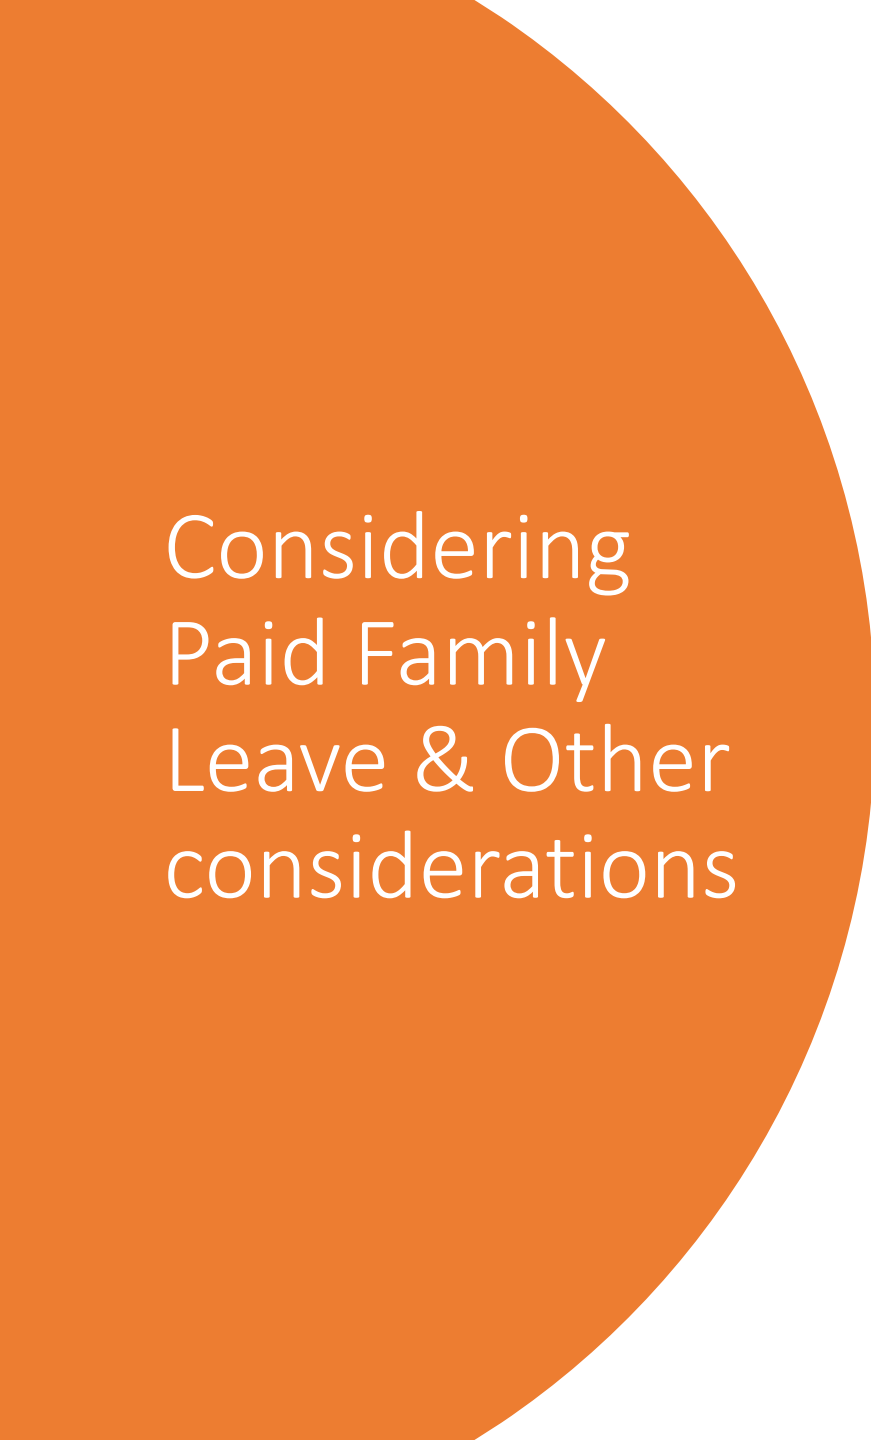

Feedback on Funding Mechanisms

- Like that recommendation says equitable RFP.
 - Equal and equitable are not the same.
- Appreciate the goal of adequacy
- Providers prefer multi-year funding for existing providers, but parents were concerned about accountability
- Funding formulas should include GREATLY improved salaries for the workforce
- There should be some flexibility baked into the mechanisms
- Parents and providers said there was a need transparency in decision-making

FUNDING MECHANISMS

- How will equity be achieved in an RFP? Providers need support to be successful.
 - What data will be collected at the agency? How will data collection eliminate burden on providers and families?
 - What will accountability look like?
 - How will quality be communicated to parents?
 - How do we ensure providers are accountable to excellent standards of care and service?

Considering Paid Family Leave & Other considerations

- Parent participants wanted to know how paid family leave fit into the new state plan
 - Parents advocated for a state plan for paid family leave especially for the first year of life
 - Parents also advocated for more dedicated funding for parent outreach and communications since many only find out about critical resources through other parents
- A decorative yellow dashed line is located in the bottom right corner of the slide, consisting of several short, curved segments.

CONTINUING TO LISTEN

- All participants wanted more sessions with parents and providers of different types
- Need clarity around regional and local governance structures
- Many questions remained on what will happen first (Is the priority to increase access or improve quality?)
- All participants wanted clarity on how stakeholders would be engaged in implementation decision-making
 - Funding commission should recommend process for implementation decision-making and inclusion of stakeholders

Who else needs to be engaged?

- Central and Southern Illinois were not well represented in the focus groups
- We must engage more small and home-based providers, including FFN caregivers
- We must engage more parents
